Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

Claims 1-22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

- i) The term “heteroaryl” is indefinite because it is not known how many atoms are present, how many and what kind of heteroatoms are involved, what size ring is intended and how many rings are present.
- ii) The term “heterocycle” is indefinite because it is not known how many atoms make up the ring, which atoms are present and what kind of a ring (monocyclic, bicyclic, spiro, fused, bridged, saturated, etc.) is intended.
- iii) The last line of the claims reads “and pharmaceutically acceptable salts and individual diastereomers thereof.” This is not proper Markush language. It is suggested to use proper alternative language, such as, “or a pharmaceutically acceptable salt or diastereomer thereof.”
- iv) In claim 6, the variable “H” is present. It is unclear where this came from or what it is. Appropriate correction is required.
- v) It is suggested to rewrite claim 20 as, for example, “A compound selected from the group consisting of...” and separating the compounds with commas and inserting “and” before the last compound in order to present the claim in proper Markush language.

Claim 22 provides for the use of a compound, but, since the claim does not set forth any steps involved in the method/process, it is unclear what method/process applicant is intending to encompass. A claim is indefinite where it merely recites a use without any active, positive steps delimiting how this use is actually practiced.

Claim 22 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 101 because the claimed recitation of a use, without setting forth any steps involved in the process, results in an improper definition of a process, i.e., results in a claim which is not a proper process claim under 35 U.S.C. 101. See for example Ex parte Dunki, 153 USPQ 678 (Bd.App. 1967) and Clinical Products, Ltd. v. Brenner, 255 F. Supp. 131, 149 USPQ 475 (D.D.C. 1966).
